

Add Your Wave of Change

Write one action you'll take to help our oceans

"After seeing this I want to..."

"One small thing I can do is..."

Fading Blue:

Youth-Led Exhibition on Water Pollution

17-19 Washington
Street, Tenafly,
NJ 07670

Dedicated to highlighting our ocean's change
and health risks

Who We Are

We represent students who are passionate about understanding and bringing awareness to our oceans. We created this exhibition to highlight the ongoing concerns about the health of the ocean and the lack of awareness of how our ocean has been changing and is being damaged.

We are using art to express our thoughts to campaign for the conservation of our oceans.

What We Do

Advocacy

We created this exhibition and posted it on all available social media platforms and resources to share our message. We emphasized our goals and spread our intentions.

Campaigns

We have paintings and interactive activities for the viewers so that they can be involved in the change.

Fundraising

We sold chips and homemade macarons during our exhibition in order to donate to Clean Ocean Action, a NJ non-profit dedicated to cleaning our shores, researching our oceans, and advocating for changes in ocean protection policy